

Thank you, Colin, for the fabulous free Chinatown walking tour. Your stories about all those people living in the cramped quarters makes us appreciate the amount of living space we have. Also really liked the visit to the Urban Redevelopment Authority.

Colin was our guide and was terrific. Comprehensive, engaged and well informed, he brought the history of the area to life and really helped us appreciate the efforts of those that founded the neighborhood. Very patient with a large and diverse group of tourists, and polite with several "interesting" questions. Highly recommended

I took the free bike tour with Bas and the Chinatown tour with Colin and was blown away by both of them. So knowledgeable and friendly and willing to adapt to any weather or group request. Highly highly recommended, wish I had time to take more of their tours!

I did the China town walking tour . It was a great experience. Colin is really informative and kept the group engaged . The food tasting was my favorite part lol I recommend trying the sugar cane juice and the popiah was great ! I ended up going to China town the next day on my own like a pro and tried sting ray and other dishes . Thanks again !

We did a free walking tour around China town with tour guide Colin. He was friendly, enthusiastic and knowledgeable! He really looked after us very well. We saw temples, traditional Chinese medicine shops and lots more. We had a great time! Cannot believe it's free! Looking forward to doing the Little India walking tour tomorrow too!

We had an amazing eight hour tour with Colin, who was so accommodating to us, especially because we had two young children with us. Saw a lot of sites in one day and loved every minute of it!!!

Our walk with Collin as our guide was amazing. Learnt so much about China town and Singapore in general. Would highly recommend if you have a few hours and want a behind the scenes tour of China town

We took the three free guided tours in Chinatown, Little India and Kampong Glam and learned so much about these areas. Our guides, Colin and Bus, even arranged for us to taste some of the local food. Great days!

We are in Singapore enjoying our first visit here, and were lucky enough to spend 3 hours with Colin for the food and culture tour. We personally were blown away, what better way to experience and enjoy Singapore local food and culture, Colin regaled us with not only his own personal family history but the history of Singapore. The food was surprisingly delicious, as we would not have selected something like fried oyster cake ourselves at a hawker market! A highlight for me was an unexpected visit to the Tooth Relic Buddhist Temple, thank you Colin we had a wonderful time and would highly recommend your tour.

A group of us, Singaporeans, went on the Chinatown Free Walking Tour and Colin was the guide for that day. Colin is amazing in his narrative of Chinatown's past, and even brought a sense of personal touch with his own stories. We discovered so much more about Chinatown

A lovely experience with a well informed and very friendly guide.. Collins made the tour fun and the 2.5 hours passed in a flash.. definitely recommending this tour..

We had the pleasure of Colin showing us around the Chinatown area and its best local food locations. His stories are engaging and informative and the food tour includes very good choices. Colin was also flexible enough to add a few extra stops to our tour, which ensured that we could not have asked for anything better. The tour is well organised, informative and Colin's special touch made it perfect.

As a local growing up here, I came to realise there is much more story and understanding of each places, which I knew so little about. Till I joined this walking tour. It was a eye opener of how much Colin the guide knows, and the whole duration of the tour was kept interesting!

Did the free walking tiur with Collin in Kampong Glam and it was a great halfday. Got to see many interesting sights in Singapore and Collin gave a lot of good information. Nice with the little snacks we got along the way as well. We have done free walking tours all over the world and so understand it's a tipbased concept but I think, to avoid any confusion, it would be good to mention this at the start and/or end of the tour as well.

I have taken several free walking tours in different countries but I might say that this particular one is the best. Collin, our guide, was so passionate and even bought at local markets and restaurant some of the traditional for us to taste, he didn't ask for any money. He made this experience unique, he is a great story teller. There was also a lovely girl that was an intern (unfortunately I forgot her name), but she was very nice caring of people, taking pictures to the group. I definitely recommend these tours, and hopefully you get to meet Collin

We did two tours, Chinatown with Colin and Little India with Dani. Both tours were fantastic. Colin and Dani deliver the information with great energy and enthusiasm. I liked their stories linking grandparents/great grandparents to places we saw. The intern, whose name I forget (sorry!!) was really helpful (thanks for going back with my husband when he left a bag behind!). She also gave lots of useful information to us when chatting as we were walking around. All guides stayed as long as needed at the end of the tour to give any information needed. We have done several free tours before- this is by far the best free tour we have done. Do it- and tip generously!

We did 3 free walking tours with this company: Kampong Glam (with Bas), Chinatown (with Patrick) and Little India (with Colin). Each tour lasted approx. 2.5h and they were all excellent! Our guides were very knowledgeable and shared some personal experiences as well, which added to the authenticity. What made these tours unique when compared with other free walking tours was food sampling. It was complimentary on all 3 tours and allowed us to taste something local that most likely we wouldn't know was worth purchasing. Definitely a huge plus! The only recommendation I would have is to skip the tasting of pulled tea on the Little India tour. Our group was the very first one where this happened but I feel we could have spent the time better :-). Thank you Monster Tours for giving my wife and myself a fantastic overview of 3 great neighbourhoods in Singapore!

The best way to get to know Singapore with a local! We took 2 tours (Chinatown and Kampong Glam) with Colin and found each tour very engaging and informative about Singapore culture and history. We even got to try tasty snacks on the way! Colin has perfect English and was able to answer all of our questions. He also has a great sense of humor. Would recommend for those who are fans of walking tours (just bring plenty of water and wear a hat as it will be HOT!).

I had a full week in Singapore so I took 4 of the free walking tours they offer: little India, Chinatown, Kampong glam and Civic district. They were ALL GREAT! Yap, Colin and Dani were my guides- all wonderful guides with lots of knowledge combined with a sense of humor, what made it so much fun and not only informative.

- יערה ד on 05 Sep 2018

I had a fantastic experience with Colin, the tour guide, at the free walking tour. Colin was friendly, knowledgeable and adapted the tour to meet my needs and interests. I really enjoyed walking the streets and finding out about the local culture, religion and history and it was easy to see that Colin equally was enthusiastic and enjoyed delivering the tour. I would have tipped more happily if my purse hadn't of been empty. Highly recommend!!!

Het was een geweldige manier om alles te weten te komen over Little India. Onze gids Colin was geweldig. In het Tekka Center kregen we typische gerechtjes om te proeven. Omdat de toer zo interessant was, besloten we Colin's tweede toer in Bugis & Bras Basah ook te volgen. Colin vertelde over de geschiedenis, tradities en de diversiteit van haar bewoners. En de volgende dag waren terug voor de Kampong Glam toer. Dani was de gids, zeer enthousiaste dame. Ook alweer zeer boeiend, en een fantastisch (gratis) uitzicht vanop een wolkenkrabber. Zeer aan te bevelen

Colin was a fantastic guide. He really knew a lot about Singapore, including the history of the country, the culture of its people, and most importantly, the food. He was incredibly accommodating, was willing to stop by other places to let us try things that we had read about previously, and took us to see some amazing views. We really appreciated how he built in walking/breaks between food stops to let us digest. The walking around the city was really easy--very leisurely and all flat. So it really felt like a vacation. I would definitely take more tours from this company if we had more time here.

Excellent tour. Colin our guide had a lot of knowledge giving us an insight on the founding and settlement of Singapore. Who would have known about the peep hole above the shop entrances? Recommend to everyone.

My family of 4 participated in every free walking tour they offered and felt we really made a great investment of time. In 2.5 hours, we got so much out of understanding the the major neighborhoods and culture of Singapore from a local's perspective. Colin was excellent and is a wonderful story teller. Yap did one of the tours and was equally good. They took us to locations that we would have never found on our own and introduced to us food and drink that were interesting and delicious for free. Please tip your guides because they are motivated to give you a great experience! Thank you for offering this great service ; no matter what budget you have, you will enjoy the tours.

The 4 of us thoroughly enjoyed the tour because Collin, our Guide was fun and made the tour very interesting by incorporating Singapore history. The 4hrs flew and our 10 and 12yr old did not once complain about the distance walked.Collin also introduced us to Kaya on Toast which we ended up buying and bringing back to Fiji with us at the end of our holidays.Thank you Collin! I booked a private tour for me and my partner but my partner was unwell and wasn't able to go on the tour. I met Colin at the meeting point and he was very friendly and amenable. He asked what food I had tried and what I liked so he could tailor my tour to suit my preferences. He had such a great knowledge of the area and I completely trusted all of his suggestions. I ate a traditional Singapore breakfast of Kaya toast with eggs, ice coffee and a lovely green coloured sponge cake. Then I tried some Hainanese rice (my new favourite dish), then a sort of spring roll with peanuts in, before heading to the Michelin star restaurant for the fancy soy chicken. All the food was amazing and Colin took a few diversions to see some tourist attractions that I wanted to see.

My advice for anyone considering this tour...do it!! Ask for Colin....and go with the flow. 5 stars to Colin and the tour

This was my (Carlos) first walking tour at Singapore and it did not disappoint. My partner (Jeanne) participated in two tours earlier in the year with you guys and she was very delighted with them. Colin was a great tour guide and was very detailed and patient with us. We even got two souvenir umbrellas from him due to the rain. We'd definitely book another tour when we visit Singapore again.

Hi Monstertours, Hi Colin,

the postcard we send on your civil district tour last wednesday from the fullerton hotel arrived yesterday. Thank you so much. I had so much fun on your tours that day. You took a picture of me, putting the card into the postbox. Is there a chance to get to see it? I hope to come back again to singapur someday.

Have a great weekend and lots of greetings from hamburg/germany.

Hi Colin,

This is your guest "T" from one of your free walking tour. I hope this email finds you well (and not been dumped to the trash fold, ^-^). I joined your free walking tour on 5th Oct, you took us to the Fullerton hotel and gave us the opportunity to send a postcard from there. I'd like to let you know that the postcard has finally arrived its destination -- Shanghai, China, safe and sound. Though it probably has taken more time than we both expected, :-). But like what you said, at least, you know it works!

Thank you for the wonderful walking tour you provided, it was one of the highlights of Singapore trip. I hope I can come back to visit Singapore someday in the near future, ^_^

All the best
